STATE STORES ARE NO "TESTING GROUND"

Will Not Offer Unknown Brands

State Stores Will Not Aid Sales Of Foreign Brands Of Liquor

ONLY WELL KNOWN LIQUOR FOR SALE

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Jan. 24.—The state liquor control board served notice today that it does not intend to permit state stores to become "testing grounds" for developing American markets for little-known foreign brands of liquor.

"The Pennsylvania liquor control board is not and will not be a sales experiment agency for brands of alcoholic beverages which are not well-known to the public," the statement said.

"The board has had many demands that it buy hundreds of additional items but it has declined to do so because the brands offered are not well known. The board cannot stock such merchandise to enable importers or manufacturers to create a market for it. Such a demand can develop naturally."

After a month's effort the board announced it was finally able to purchase several thousand cases of a popular brand of Scotch whiskey which will go on sale within the next two weeks.

Attorney General William A. Schnader announced the appointments of Horace Segelbaum, Harrisburg, and John M. Walker, Pittsburgh, as deputies assigned to the liquor board. They will augment the board's legal staff which is now comprised of Wilhelm Knauer and Fred W. Davis.

The reservoir is actually divided into two parts, separated by the Pennsylvania railroad and state highway to Linesville. They have been placed side by side on a raised embankment, which acts as a secondary dam for the body of water known as the upper basin. This section of the lake was allowed to fill several months ago and is now within a foot of being filled.

The reservoir will have a shore line of 70 miles, along many portions of which citizens of Pennsylvania will be permitted to lease camp sites for summer homes and cottages. However, no leases will be granted for at least a year until the reservoir is completely filled.

The Pymatuning reservoir has a capacity of 64 billion gallons. Its area will be nearly three times greater than Lake Wallenpaupack in Pike and Wayne counties, which at present is the largest artificial lake in the state. Its length will be 16 miles; its average width 1.6 miles. The maximum depth of water will be 35 feet and its area at flowline will be 25.7 square miles.

had come, replied: "We came as a protest."

Arguments on the case were not materially different from those made on a motion to quash the mandamus. The whole question centers around the authority of the county controller on this particular question.

Attorneys for the Thayer company maintain that under recent laws the county commissioners, with the approval of the court, can order a new court house, and the duties of the controller are simply ministerial in the matter, and he must approve the warrants.

Attorneys for the controller contend that the controller should have been consulted when the commissioners and court approved the contract, that his duties are not ministerial, but discretionary, and that he has a perfect right to refuse to sign warrants when, in his judgment, it is to the best interests of the taxpayers.

At the conclusion of the arguments the court took the papers and will hand down a decision later.

saw two men race from the building, climb into an automobile and drive hurriedly away.

Police expressed the opinion that White, known to the underworld and police alike as one of the underworld's coldest killers, was put on the "spot" by a comely young woman, a frequent visitor at the apartment. Half-filled whisky glasses in the dining room bore proof that four persons had taken part in a drinking party that preceded the shooting. The fourth person, police reasoned, was the mysterious young woman.

White's wife, her brother, Jimmy Kelly, vaudeville and night club dancer, and Diana Anderson of Sterling, Ill., a friend of the Kellys, were held by Oak Park police for questioning. It was Mrs. White who told police of "Bill" and "Joe" known to her as business associates of her gangster husband. She said she had left White and the two men in their apartment when she departed for the theater.

Lent begins three weeks from today.

Just a few more days until most of New Castle's city school population is "moved up" a half grade. And, as per usual, a flock of youngsters who have just turned six years of age will enroll as one B's.

There has been an abundance of new cars wrecked within the past several weeks, the owner of an auto wrecking business told Pa. News the other day. Many of the cars were owned by out-of-towners, and the Perry Highway seemed to be the nemesis for most of them.

West-bound auto drivers find the approach to the West Washington street bridge some improved from what it was at first, but east-bound drivers must still "hold everything" when bouncing over what was at one time the P. & L. E. crossing.

A drunken driver on Highland avenue the other night was fortunate in finding two street car tracks. At the last moment while traveling down the hill, until then he was blazing a zig-zag course.

MOZESZ TO FACE MURDER CHARGE AT MARCH TERM

grabbed her and turned her around. Giordano said, and the two of them continued on up the hill without stopping.

When he arrived at the home of Danny Fusco, he turned alongside the house and had walked part of the way toward the back end of the house, when he heard a scream, followed by two shots. He looked out and saw the man standing over the girl, who was down on the sidewalk. Then he heard another scream, followed by two shots.

He started to run toward the back of the Fusco home, calling to Danny, who came out and started up toward where the girl was lying. Giordano said he called to Fusco not to go up there as the man who had done the shooting had gone into a woods close by.

As they came up to the spot where the girl was lying, the man came out of the woods, above the point where he had gone in and started to hurry across the street, and then disappeared down a side street, opposite the end of Arlington avenue, Giordano said.

He holled to him to stop, Giordano said, but he kept on going. He left then to try and hunt a telephone to call the police, while Fusco remained with the body.

He did not know Rose Balogh nor her assailant, he stated, and could only identify him by the fact that he was tall and wore a dark overcoat.

Giordano was examined by Attorney Samuel W. Clark, who appeared for the accused. He said that no words passed between them all the time he was walking behind the couple, which was possibly a distance of 60 or 70 feet. He did not see the shots fired, looking around after he had heard the first scream and the shots, he stated. There was a little holler and some words to the right of Arlington avenue, and it was into this spot that the girl's assailant disappeared after the shooting, coming out farther up the hill possibly 60 feet beyond where he went in.

After the girl had been taken to the hospital, he said he went with the officers who came to find the gun which had been used, and was there when Officer Joby Thomas picked it up.

Fusco Testifies.
Dan Fusco, who lives on Arlington avenue, only a few yards away from where the shooting occurred, told practically the same story as Giordano.

He stated that he was up in his room dressing, when he heard a scream and two shots, fired close together. Looking down, he said he saw a man standing over a girl, seemingly pushing her down towards the sidewalk.

It was only 15 yards away, he stated, but seemed nearer as he was looking down at them from the second floor. He could see the flashes from the gun, he said. After the first screams, he started to run down the stairs, when he heard another scream and two more shots being fired.

He came out of the house and ran to the girl's side. As he did so, he saw a tall fellow come out of the bushes just below the house above, at the corner of Long avenue and Arlington avenue, and saw him go across the street. He did not know who he was, but remembered that he wore a dark overcoat and dark hat.

He said he stood and watched the girl for a short time, not knowing what to do. She groaned, he said, and he bent over her to listen to see if she was breathing. When he knew she was still alive, he said he tried to stop the first car which came along, but that it kept on going. Shortly afterwards a truck came along, and he stopped it. The two men in it got out and he told them a girl had been shot. They picked her up and put her in the truck and took her away to the hospital.

The men wanted him to go along, but he didn't as he was dressed up to go away, he said.

Driver Tells Story.
Walter Westrick, driver of the truck, told of being stopped while he was coming down Arlington avenue. He said he saw some people standing there, who told him a girl had been shot. With Tony Isaac, who was with him, they loaded the girl into the back end of the truck and started for the New Castle hospital.

He said that Isaac turned on a light in the back of the truck while they were on the way to the hospital, and exclaimed, "My—, it's Rose Balogh." They both knew the girl, Westrick stated.

She moaned on the way to the hospital, but did not speak any words Westrick stated.

Wound Described.
Dr. Z. N. Stutz told of being called to the New Castle hospital to treat Miss Balogh but found her dead on her arrival. Death had resulted from hemorrhages produced by a gunshot wound in the left breast, at the sixth rib, and about six inches from the median line.

He performed a post mortem examination on the body. Dr. Stutz stated, and said the bullet which had caused her death.

Officer Peter Hillers testified to being called to Long avenue by the report of a shooting on the evening of January 12 at 6:45. On arriving at the scene he found a pool of blood on the sidewalk.

They went to the hospital and there found John Mozesz, whom they questioned. As they had not informed Mozesz of his rights about answering their questions, the testimony of what conversation they had with Mozesz on this first visit was not admitted as testimony.

They went back to the scene of the shooting, where Officer Joby Thomas recovered the gun, after which they came back to the hospital.

Mozesz was on the operating table, and after informing him that they were police officers and that anything he said might be used for or against him in court, they again questioned him.

Admitted Shooting.
Officer Hillers said that Mozesz told them then that he had shot Rose.

"I asked her to marry me and she said nothing so I shot her," Officer Hillers said Mozesz had stated. On cross examination, Officer Hillers was asked if he knew whether Mozesz had been given an anesthetic or opiates, and he replied that he had not as far as he knew.

"Joby and I talked to him and he spoke good English," Officer Hillers stated.

The jury, composed of Bernard J. Rocks, Leonard A. Campbell, Charles E. Allen, J. N. McCandless, Maurice J. Hunter and E. C. Linsley, then retired and brought in the following verdict:

"We the members of the coroner's jury, find that Rose Balogh came to her death as a result of a gunshot wound received at the hands of an assailant on Long avenue, New Castle, Lawrence county, Pa. We believe her assailant to have been John Mozesz and recommend that he be held to await the action of the grand jury."

The charges against Mozesz had been read to him Monday afternoon by Alderman Ewing and were not repeated at the hearing last evening.

John Mozesz, Sr., father of the defendant, was a spectator at the preliminary hearing and inquest. He sat in the front row of seats, facing the jury and maintained a stoical calm throughout the hearing. He arrived here several days ago to be at the side of his son during his coming trial.

The son, John Mozesz, Jr., on the other hand, seemed rather pleased with the whole proceedings. Occasionally a smile flickered across his countenance.

Members of the Balogh family sat in sullen silence close by.

Milk Control Board Meets

State Milk Control Board Meets To Discuss Action Taken By New York Mayor

WILL PROBABLY ANSWER CHARGE

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Jan. 24.—Pennsylvania's newly-appointed milk control board meets here for the first time today to organize and consider the action of Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia, of New York City, in banning importation of milk from Pennsylvania producers in an effort to avert a threatened price war.

Edward A. Stanford, of White-marsh, chairman of the board, called the meeting with Howard C. Reynolds, his colleague, conferred here with Attorney General William A. Schnader and Deputy Attorney General Bernard G. Segal.

The third member of the board is John C. Barney, of Erie county.

Segal As Counsel.
Segal, who played a prominent part in drafting the milk control legislation under which the board was set up, was reported slated for appointment as counsel to the board.

Stanford and Reynolds both have expressed the opinion that the controversy over the banning of Pennsylvania milk in New York City could be quickly settled. Some dairy farmers, however, mentioned the possibility of seeking a federal court injunction against the New York mayor.

It was expected the board will take steps to point out to Mayor LaGuardia that the state's new milk control act prohibits Pennsylvania farmers from selling milk in the New York market cheaper than the prices set by New York dairy producers.

In Operation.
Organization of the board today will put into operation the provisions of the milk control act. Although the act became a part of the state's statutes when the governor signed it last January the three members of the board were not appointed until last Monday. Under the act February 1 was fixed as the deadline for milk dealers to obtain licenses from the board. Because of the delay in appointment of the board it was believed dealers would be given a time extension.

License fees range from 1 to $2500, based on dairy volume of milk handled, and a rush of applications was expected to follow the board's meeting.

ADMINISTRATION MAY ACCEPT TIME LIMIT ON GOLD BILL

insist that the fund be administered by the secretary of the treasury, he being responsible to the president. The senate amendments fixed two years as the time limit of the stabilization fund, and as the period in which the president could exercise his permissive authority to devalue the dollar down to 50 cents. It was also provided the limit could be extended an additional year by a presidential proclamation that the depression was not ended. The administration sees no particular harm in this time limitation, as if the depression is not ended at the two or three year period congress could be asked for further extension.

Urging immediate enactment of the measure, the senate banking committee declared the British Government, through use of its stabilization fund in international exchange, forced the United States off the gold standard.

The committee heartily approved creation of the $2,000,000,000 stabilization fund and devaluation of the gold dollar. These steps are necessary, the committee declared, to prevent a repetition of British attacks on the dollar and to increase American commodity prices.

The report was filed by Senator Fletcher (D) of Florida, chairman of the committee.

REPORT CONTACT WITH KIDNAPERS DAY'S POSSIBILITY

ment by a federal grand jury last March for the abduction of Charles Boettcher, Denver clubman.

Sankey and Alcorn are known to be close pals of Roger Touhy and his henchmen and are said to have shared a St. Paul hideout with the Chicagoans shortly after the William J. Hamm kidnapping in the Minnesota city. Touhy and three others were subsequently acquitted of that crime.

A theory advanced by police is that Sankey, Alcorn and others staged the Bremer "snatching" to obtain funds with which to finance the Touhy's defense in the current John ("Jake The Barber") Factor kidnapping trial here.

Sankey and Alcorn were reported seen with a woman in a small coupe in Chicago several weeks ago. They fled to St. Paul, police believe, when a search was instituted for them.

Senior Prom At Hotel Is Gala Social Event

Seniors of the January division of the senior high school's 1934 graduation class passed another stepping stone on their calendar of commencement events when they gathered last night in The Castleton for an enjoyable dinner-dance.

Almost the entire class of 191 members was present at the final social get-together, and special guests included Superintendent of Schools C. C. Green, Principal and Mrs. F. L. Orth and many of the high school faculty.

The evening's activities began with a delicious dinner served in the ballroom. Tables were lighted with tapers, and decorations were beautifully carried out in the class colors of blue and silver. Music was furnished by a popular orchestra. At the conclusion of the dinner, Class President Heber Baldwin, acting as master of ceremonies, opened the program with a few introductory remarks in which he welcomed all guests and thanked the class for its loyal cooperation throughout their high school career.

In behalf of the class he thanked Miss Bess Galley, the class supervisor, for her excellent aid and guidance, and presented her with a gift as a token of appreciation. Miss Galley responded with thanks.

Principal Frank L. Orth was then called upon, and he commended the class for its excellent high school record, and the class supervisor and officers for their able leadership. Dr. C. C. Green, the next speaker, recalled that when he came to New Castle the present class was in the fourth grade. He has watched their progress with interest, noting that Heber Baldwin has been leader of the class since the seventh grade—a record of six years. In view of the graduates' excellent high school record, he spoke encouragingly of prospects for the future in behalf of the class.

The group then proceeded to the lobby where every senior received a copy of the eagerly-anticipated January 1934, "Ne-Ca-Hi," which made its first appearance last night. The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing, games and chat, and at the conclusion every senior returned home to cherish the memory of one of the happiest times of his life.

The committees and chairmen responsible for the success of the affair are as follows:

General committee: Heber Baldwin, James Marshall, Richard Rentz and Gertrude Shaffer; hotel arrangements, Richard Rentz; music, Ed Norris; decorations, Eleanor Horner, aided by all senior A art students; host and hostess committee, Jean Kennedy and Roy Gibson; "Ne-Ca-Hi" committee, George W. Conway and Howard Rumbaugh; door committee, Bert and Bill Hilton; cards and games, Marguerite Hoffman.

Commencement exercises for the group of 191 will be held on Friday night, January 26, at 8 o'clock at the Scottish Rite Cathedral.

Miss Shaw Hostess

Miss Isabel Shaw of West Cherry street will be hostess to the Pals 500 club Thursday evening.

CUBAN RECOGNITION

RECOGNITION of the new Cuban regime by President Roosevelt on behalf of U. S. was not unanticipated. Colonel Mendieta's accession to the Presidency has apparently been received with general satisfaction, and all the omens indicate the speedy restoration of law and order. In these circumstances Washington could hardly hold aloof.

In outlining in advance his prospective action to the representatives of the Latin-American republics, Mr. Roosevelt followed the policy of cultivating more intimate and friendly relations with our South American neighbors. We have too often ignored the sensitive feeling a weaker nation usually has towards a stronger.

BLESSINGS OF LABOR

A young man who had been out of work rushed into his home the other day, and shouted at the top of his voice, "I've got a job." If five years ago, he had been told that someone had given him a million dollars, he would have shown no more enthusiasm. The job he had landed was nothing so much, but the mere fact that any kind of regular work made him happy. The joy which he felt was a revelation of the changed spirit of these days.

People are realizing what a blessing work is. In former years, they were generally indifferent about work. "I had rather suffer severe pain than work," a gentleman of high culture and literary attainments once said. Such aversion to toil was common. Many people argued that work was a kind of curse visited upon the race. They dreamed of the day when technical progress would make it needless to work more than an hour or two a day, so they could devote the rest of their time to pursuits that really interested them.

In former days, a great many employees were heedless about their tasks. The business that employed them suffered because of their lack of loyal devotion.

After an experience of unemployment, or of fear of losing jobs, many people have been led to see that work is the normal expression of human energy, that people are happier when they are working. An idle life is pernicious, and apt to be followed by physical and often mental weakening.

As the country recovers from a partial industrial prostration, it is to be hoped that this saner view of work will become permanent.

IT'S DANGEROUS TO FORGET

A good "forgettery" is of value in some cases, especially if the incidents forgotten are those which might apply the brakes to constructive effort. It is wise to forget those little acts of meanness or thoughtlessness upon the part of friends or acquaintances which so aroused your ire at the time. It is a mistake to mull them over in the mind until they reach serious proportions. It is much better to pass them off with a laugh and go serenely on your way, mindful that you, too, often have said and done things which were later regretted.

But it's positively dangerous, if you want to continue driving a car, to conveniently "forget" to report any accidents which you may have had when you answer the questions asked when you make out your application for a 1934 driver's license.

The reports are to be checked and any who wilfully make false reports will automatically lose their licenses for a period of two years. It will be a good thing to keep that fact in mind when applying for the right to drive. The questions, a departure from the former custom, are the result of adoption of the financial responsibility law, a measure with the provisions of which every motor vehicle operator should become thoroughly familiar.

PERSHING'S BUST BECOMES A RACKET

America's versatile racketeers don't need liquor, gambling, dope or any of the other familiar bases for their operations.

So innocuous an object as a bust of General John J. Pershing furnishes foundation for a nefarious industry, as is shown by the arrest of a man in Washington charged with using the bust as a lure for obtaining easy money.

In this case the average man may get comfort out of knowing that such shrewd citizens as Charles G. Dawes, Alfred E. Smith, General W. W. Atterbury and Andrew W. Mellon figure in the "sucker list."

STOCK MARKET ADVANCES

It is not healthy for the people to watch the stock market too much. Advances in securities, if within reason, do help business, just as excessive declines hurt trade. The big slump of 1929 caused such great stock market losses, that countless people stopped buying goods, which was the originating cause of the great depression.

Now we see the reverse of that process. A large number of people have seen their stocks and bonds go up, which gives them courage to buy things. Also some bond lists, which looked pretty sick a few months ago, appear quite respectable after recent advances. All of which helps to loosen up credit, and start paralyzed activity.

Another good co-educational institution is a son old enough to ask questions.

With prohibition repealed, sea serpents soon may become visible in some of America's lakes.

NOT (H)ALL

Some Englishmen evidently are coming at last to see humor in the difficulty experienced by their compatriots in getting the joint of a joke and in repeating it, as an Englishman told this one to an American visitor, first explaining that the country house of the Duke of Westminster is in Cheshire, the county famous for its cheese and is named "Eaton Hall."

"Why is it," asked a gentleman drinking in a "pub" that there is no longer any cheese coming from Cheshire?"

"Because," the gentleman explained, "the Duke of Westminster's Eaton Hall."

When Hal arrived home he was laughing audibly, which "isn't done" in England, except when one is light, so his "Mussus" accused him of being in that condition.

"It's a jolly good joke. A gentleman asks 'Why is there no cheese left in Cheshire, an' when I said I didn't know, 'e says 'Because the Duke of Westminster 'e's beaten the whole bally lot.'"

THINKING ABOUT HIM

They say that Jim has a strong will.

Yes, I know. Everybody who knows Jim knows that about him. He has a strong will and he keeps it strong by frequent exercise. If he says he is going on a picnic he goes and nothing stops him. If he makes up his mind to get somewhere, he gets there. If he makes a statement, he sticks to it. If he starts an argument it lasts until midnight. . . . Spend five minutes at Jim's company and you discover the strength of Jim's will. He shows it off just as a strong man shows his strength by flexing his muscles. That's Jim.

Trouble is he wastes too much time and energy proving the tenacity and persistence of his will. . . . He has no gift at all for ease and relaxation. He rushes. He drives. He shoves. He battles. . . . He's a high speed engine and he knows it. Big things and little things are all the same to Jim. He can't tell them apart and treats them all the same. He sticks by a careless statement about the name of a star as stubbornly as he will to his confidence in a friend or his belief in immortality. So quarrels are frequent with Jim. And when Jim quarrels, the fight lasts forever. He'll not forgive. You must be the one that does that. His strong will won't let him weaken.

But sometimes I wonder if there is any Jim at all. You remember the Cheshire Cat in Lewis Carroll's story that faded away in the tree until he was nothing but a smile? . . . Perhaps that's what Jim is like. Perhaps he's just a walking Strong-Will—and there isn't REALLY any Jim. And perhaps he suspects it. Perhaps he's afraid that people will find him out and learn for themselves that he's just as uncertain as other people—and has some faint feelings of weakness that everybody has—but he must put up this blustering pretense of being a big, strong, conquering champion who won't stand for any contradicting.

I don't know. That's a new idea about him. I'll have to look into it and watch Jim a little closer after this—and see if I can find for myself whether a human being beneath that tough old hide of his.

WRITE, RIGHT!

What is the use of writing a letter to a friend if you have nothing interesting to write about?

Too many letters are written from a sense of duty.

If you are writing a friend surely you ought to be able to think of something interesting to say, rather than a lot of needlessly depressing facts or a lot of silly gossip.

One woman makes it a point to include in her letters something worthwhile of an informative nature from a reliable source.

A routine perfunctory letter is always disappointing.

The opening of a letter is always anticipated with pleasure hoping that it contains some news that reflects the happiness surrounding the writer.

When it fails to have such effect it is a disappointment.

Real trouble comes fast enough so that those who carry on a correspondence should try to bring satisfaction and comforting relaxing thoughts to the recipient.

To tell of unusual places seen, delightful experiences and people you have met, out of the ordinary happenings in your family, makes a good letter.

Chatty, not cut and dried and formal, yet worth reading letters should be sent.

At evening Janet's strength will rally To find some way to dilly-dally. Her active little mind produces Innumerable strange excuses Designed in one way, or another To get an extra hour from mother.

Though little girls just turned eleven Should go to bed at half-past seven I find they generally incline To staying up till half past nine. Which proves that nothing drab or dreary Has spoiled their lives or made them weary.

The World At A Glance

Men Imprisoned for Debt
Roosevelt a Hero Abroad
Gold "Seizure" Angers BankersBy LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—This remains a queer, backward world. In England and for that matter in parts of the United States) men still are imprisoned for debt.

In England, debtors in jail cost the nation $300,000 a year. Besides, the debtors are kept from any productive earning.

In England, 13,000 a year are imprisoned for debt.

Recently, an unemployed man in debt, was prevented from seeing his two children, who lay dying.

The law MAY be changed—if an investigating committee finds it is unjust.

HERO IN ENGLAND TOO

President Roosevelt is rapidly becoming the hero of England, to the embarrassment of English politicians who do not fancy his policies and programs.

Says the London Daily Express: "What a lesson Roosevelt, the hero of a nation, teaches the rulers of this country (England)!"

"At home he pursues a policy of bold, resourceful, unceasing war on poverty and unemployment."

Abroad he seeks peace with all nations, keeping an absolute determination to stay clear of any quarrels which may deflect the American people from the task of reconstruction in streets."

There is only one difficulty—the rubber post offers little safety for the persons standing behind it when an auto meets it in collision.

WALL STREET

Wall Street is not so sanguine concerning the Roosevelt policies. Carlton A. Shively, generally believed to speak the view of Wall Street bankers, says in the New York Sun:

"While there is much ground for feeling that the forthright inflationists have been held in check by the administration, satisfaction on that score must be tempered by the fact that it is proposed to substitute political control for expert banking and business government of credit. Seizure of the Federal Reserve system's gold is the crux of the matter. Gold certificates will be given in exchange, but they won't be convertible into gold, no matter what may be said about it; and moreover, henceforth, all our currency will become inconvertible. Under such conditions the gold or silver 'backing' it in the treasury is of no importance."

"With the increased base for credit expansion which the dollar devaluation will give, with the power in the hands of the treasury to expand through currency issues, the Federal Reserve will necessarily lose all control over the money market. Expansion but never contraction can be expected. Some time may be required for the medicine to take effect, but when it does the danger of a fresh inflationary boom, with certain collapse to follow, will be a real one."

"Moreover, even the benefit of currency stabilization loses some of its value with the obvious fact that the new level picked for dollars—assuming the upper 60 per cent—is too low for the dollar's current valuation in the foreign exchange market. The government is aware of that, for it has asked a two-billion dollar (part of the proceeds on dollar devaluation) to be set aside for its use in buying gold in an attempt to put dollars down to the desired level."

EXPENSIVE?

Shively adds: "What that opens up is, at the best, an extremely expensive operation with taxpayers' money, for the so-called gold profits ought properly to be used in reducing government debt; and at worst a contest with Great Britain in exchange devaluation and trade unsettlement generally. Looking for the best, an agreement on a dollar-sterling ratio will enable business men to proceed with more confidence, but it may be a long time before any appreciable rise in commodity prices follows."

"That is not altogether a bad thing, for purchasing power of wage earners is not going much if any. However, if it does disappoint the outcry for another dose of cheap dollars will be loud. The idea still is prevalent in the government's program that small bodies of men, politically selected, can do a better job at managing markets than nature can do. Therein lies danger, as was discovered by the farmer who trained his horses to eat less and less, only to see them collapse."

Second Public Works Program Being Outlined

Approximately 2,400 Projects Have Accumulated; Would Cost $1,866,687,669

MANY PROJECTS GIVEN APPROVAL

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—A second huge public works program rivaling the initial effort is ready, and will be launched as soon as funds are available, Secretary of Interior Ickes revealed today.

Approximately 2,400 projects, many of them involving expenditure of $1,000,000 or more, and others for at least half that amount, have accumulated since the end of the year. Together they call for expenditure of $1,866,687,669.

They are being acted on as fast as Ickes' staff can examine the details and make decisions. Already a long list has been passed, tentatively, and is waiting only for sufficient funds for the whole new plan to be thrown into action.

Efforts Spurred. Ickes' plans were spurred by the crisis in the civil works program which will close shortly throwing at least 4,000,000 workers in every field on relief once more unless new pay-rolls are forthcoming.

How many of the public works applications will be translated into new government appropriations has not been determined, but a considerable part of the total will be called for, it has been indicated.

On top of this huge demand, Relief Administrator Harry Hopkins revealed that the minimum operations of his own relief departments of federal aid to states for unemployment, and for continuation of the civil works until May 1, call for close to $1,000,000,000.

Why Gamble At Odds Of 17,000,000 To One

Safety Committee Figures Odds On Reckless Driving

HARRISBURG, Jan. 24.—Motorists who endanger their safety to save a few minutes are gambling against immense odds, the governor's committee on street and highway safety said today.

"Tests made by motor club officials in various cities show that if two men travel along the same route for 10 or 12 miles through a city, one following every rule of law and caution and the other driving at maximum speed, the latter will save only three or four minutes."

"The man 35 years old who, to gain a minute, passes where he shouldn't or goes through when he hasn't the right-of-way, is gambling 17 million minutes to gain one. At 35 he has a natural expectancy of 17,000,000 more minutes of life. He may lose them all by a fatal error in trying to save one."

TEN INCH SUMACH TREE MAKES RECORD

HARRISBURG, Jan. 24.—What was believed to have been the largest poison sumach tree in Pennsylvania was cut down last week near Fleetwood, Berks county.

This shrub is a small woody plant seldom exceeding 10 feet in height. Specimens eight inches in diameter and 20 feet in height are very rare, according to the Department of Forests and Waters. The Berks county specimen was 10 inches in diameter, which, according to state forestry officials, is a record.

This sumach is one of our most poisonous native shrubs. Its wood is of no commercial importance and is not adapted for ornamental planting.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock the Knights of Columbus will hold their regular meeting in the Knights of Columbus hall.

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 24 hours ending 3:30 p. m. January 23, five arrests, on charges as follows: violation of traffic ordinances, 3 and intoxication, 2.

There will not be as many free garden plots this spring as there were last spring owing to the improvements being made by the city with CWA labor at Cunningham park. There were about 500 allotments for gardens last spring. The dry spell, however, was not conducive to good crops. Some gardeners carried water to their plots. There have been some requests already made to the city engineer's department for lots this coming spring. It is anticipated that persons who have lots which they are willing to let out free can notify city officials and when the time arrives they will be given to persons who wish to raise vegetables.

Several ornamental signs have been made and are on display at the office of the city engineer. Each sign carries the name of a park, whether it be Caston, Cunningham or Gunton. All of them are marked N. C. P. S., which means New Castle Park System.

Matthew Gunton assistant administrator of the CWA today said that if the managers of baseball teams in different sections of the city would advise the CWA of projects their diamonds would be fixed up. The managers should have permission from the property owner before the CWA is asked to improve the diamond or playing field. There should be at least one good baseball field in every ward. The CWA wants projects according to Mr. Gunton.

Season golf tickets when first sold cost $20.00. They are now $10.00, according to Director of Parks, J. D. Alexander. As head of the department in which city golf is concerned, he wants to see the course have a big year. He has made several appointments which should help to stimulate trade at the municipal course. And the 25 cents charge for nine holes every day but Monday and 25 cents charge for 18 holes on Monday should help patronage, he believes.

Attaches at the office of the city solicitor report that a new wrinkle has been introduced into effect by Sheriff Ed. Pritchard who does quite a lot of business with that department. In the future the sheriff will have to have a deposit before he serves any of the city's writs. Heretofore he has billed the city. The city has about four writs now to be served by the sheriff, it is reported.

When a deed is recorded at the Court House it is brought to the office of the City Engineer by the Registrar and Recorder and given to the City Registry Clerk.

The deed is then entered in the Deed Registry Book, showing the date of deed, the grantor, the grantee, the date received by the Registry Clerk, the Ward, the City Section and lot number and the volume and page in which it is recorded in the index.

The name of the Grantor is then entered on the city map and the name of the Grantee is printed on the map. A copy is then made of the deed and placed on file.

There are 100 city maps made on tracing cloth showing streets, alleys and lots. Each lot shows the size and owner and the city lot number by which it is assessed. All information on these maps is printed in ink.

These maps are in constant use, mostly by attorneys and real estate men, and are continually wearing out. It is then the duty of the Registry clerk to make a new one.

As these maps are very valuable there is an extra set of them that is kept up to date and placed in a fireproof vault. After this is all done a list of all transfers of property is then written up and given to Mrs. Jennie Rankin, assessor clerk, and the property is then transferred on the assessor's books.

The manograph is an instrument designed to render visible to the eye the varying pressure in an engine cylinder or other confined space in which the pressure changes with a cyclically varying volume.

SHENANGO MILL WORKER HAPPY SINCE "VENDOL" GAVE RELIEF

Suffered From Indigestion, Sharp Gas Pains In Stomach, And Nausea. Had Weak Spells, Was Daily Constipated. Says New Medicine Vendol Is Wonderful.

"My friends all say I look so much better since I began taking Vendol two weeks ago, and I certainly feel a great deal better," said Mr. Frank Rung who lives on Route 9, Lake-wood Beach, New Castle, and is employed at the Shenango Tin Mills. He was giving his experience to the Vendol Man in the New Castle Drug Company a few days ago.

"My stomach had been giving me a lot of trouble lately; even if I ate a light meal. The food would sour, turn to gas, and I would rife up a hot, burning fluid into my throat. Sometimes my stomach was so bad that I couldn't eat anything."

"While at work the gas pains seemed to grip my stomach, and if I did heavy lifting or stooped over I would be especially bad. Heartburn made my stomach feel like it was on fire at times. When these attacks came on I would feel weak and would break out in a sweat."

"I suffered all the time from constipation which made it necessary to take a pill at night or a dose of salts before breakfast. I was nervous and would roll and toss in the bed a good part of each night."

"I read about the new medicine Vendol in the papers and gave it a trial; the results are very satisfactory. I also took the little laxative tablets and they are the nicest medicine of this kind I have ever tried."

"Since taking the Vendol treatment two weeks my stomach is more comfortable than it has been for two months. All the bloating and cramps have been relieved and I haven't had a chill or heartburn since taking it. My appetite has improved and I now enjoy things I would not dare to eat before. My bowels are regular every day, and I go into a sound restful sleep as soon as I get to bed.

"Vendol has done a lot of good for me and I want to advise everyone in New Castle suffering as I did, to take a few bottles of it, for I am sure it will help them."

Came to the New Castle Drug Company, 31 East Washington St., and ask for me, the Vendol Man, and I will tell you all about this splendid new medicine, and explain how it will help you. Vendol is sold at the 21 North Mill Street store also.

State Public Works Program Being Held Up

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Jan. 24.—Legal technicalities have delayed, if not actually stopped, Pennsylvania's $14,000,000 state public works program, embracing construction of armories, hospitals, asylums, prisons and sanatoriums, it was learned Tuesday.

Application for the necessary money, $10,000,000 of which would be a loan and approximately $4,000,000 a federal grant from PWA funds, has been in the hands of the PWA legal division for some time.

The application was sent by Gov. Gifford Pinchot directly to Harold L. Ickes, the PWA administrator, after the governor was informally advised the PWA could not advance Pennsylvania the money under the Scott bill passed at the recent special session to make such loans possible. Provision is made in the Scott bill for repayment of the loan over a 30-year period, or all at once if any future legislature fails to provide a biennium payment.

Seek Funds To Keep CWA Alive

Would Provide $350,000,000 To $375,000,000 More To Continue CWA Work

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Speedy action by congress to provide $350,000,000 to $375,000,000 to continue the Civil Works Administration and bolster the depleted treasury of the Federal Relief Administration will be sought by the administration, Rep. Buchanan (D) of Texas, chairman of the house appropriations committee, announced Tuesday.

A supplemental budget estimate by the president was expected momentarily with a request for $500,000,000 additional for the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

All things are relative and the richer he seems the more his offspring say: "Charge it to Dad."

HARRISBURG, Jan. 24.—Civil works projects in Pennsylvania will be designated by large signs, Eric H. Bidue, state CWA chief, announced Tuesday.

At the request of federal authorities, Bidue has instructed county CWA administrators to prepare signs approximately four by six feet naming sponsors of projects and giving descriptive titles of the work.

years as a building contractor, when the bids came in they were almost always considerably above the estimate in this case if the estimate is $650,000.00, the actual figures will run around $800,000.00.

Then there is the cost of the lot and I understand it is likely to be built on the Carnegie Steel property on South Mill street. It is a well known fact that all the property along the creek bottom is underlaid with quick sand and it will be an enormous expense to get a foundation there. When the New Castle Dry Goods building was built they had the same trouble and had to drive concrete piling under the foundation at great expense. Then there are the furniture, fixtures, etc.

I don't believe a million dollars will complete the building ready for occupancy. Then there is the extra cost of upkeep, heating, lighting, elevator operation, janitors, etc., which will be many times what we now pay.

Some people think because the government is furnishing part of the money we will not have to pay it back, but don't you believe it. Directly or indirectly we are going to be taxed for that money.

The present court house is too good a building to throw away. About ten years ago when I served as county commissioner with George Weingartner and Tad Shields, we were going to need more room, and discussed the advisability of buying the Boyles property adjoining the court house and fitting up the large brick house for offices and building some fireproof vaults in the basement of the court house to take care of the records, but we were spending so much money for roads and bridges at that time, we gave it up.

However that could still be done at a fraction of the cost of a new building, and would take care of the needs of the county for the next fifty years.

Very truly yours,

S. R. HUEY,

Wilmington Road.

Reject Appeal By Insult To Greek Council

Only Hope For Insult To Stay In Greece Is To Get
Extention For Illness

U. S. WILL PUSH
FOR EXTRADITION

(International News Service)
ATHENS, Jan. 24.—The Greek State Council today rejected Samuel Insull's appeal against a Greek government order compelling him to leave the country by January 31.

The council stated it was incompetent to rule on the case because it affected Greece's international relations, which "must be kept friendly."

As a result the former Chicago utilities magnate's only apparent hope to remain in Greece beyond the end of the month lay in the possibility of a 10 or 15 day extension of his residence permit on grounds of ill health.

With Insull's deportation now virtually assured, American authorities looked toward taking him back to the United States at an early date to face charges of fraudulent bankruptcy in connection with the collapse of his $2,000,000,000 utilities empire.

Domestic Troubles Are Aired At Court

Hearings In Divorce Cases Before
Judges Hildebrand
And Chambers
Today

Domestic troubles are being aired before Judges R. L. Hildebrand and James A. Chambers, at divorce court today. Cruelty and desertion are the principal charges upon which applications have been filed. There is considerable sameness to the testimony. In the cruelty cases details are given as to the particular acts of cruelty such as harsh words and blows, while in the desertion cases the domestic unhappiness leading up to the separation is related.

Four cases which were on the list for hearings today will not come up at this term. In the cases of Edward E. Cross against Mildred Cross, in which the charge was adultery, a continuance was granted; also in the case of Frank Imman against Mattie Imman, desertion. It was announced that the cases of Mary Robinson against Thomas J. Robinson, cruelty, and Edward C. Heckert against Artie May Heckert, desertion, would not come up at the present term.

The cases scheduled to be heard were: Samuel Rhodes against Carrie Rhodes, cruelty; W. R. vs. Naomi Clements, desertion; Majorie Reichel against Leon Reichel, desertion; George F. Veon against Irene May Veon, desertion; Pearl Haid against Albert Haid, desertion; Marge LeBlanc against Leo LeBlanc, cruelty; N. K. Zeigler against Martha R. Zeigler, desertion; Marie Santilli against Richard Santilli, cruelty; Evaline Smith against James J. Smith, desertion; William H. Earl against Lottie Earl, desertion; Andrew Conti against Rose Conti, adultery; Helen Maloney against Thomas Maloney, indignities; Hazel Bluedorn against Samuel Bluedorn, desertion; Margaret Young against James Young, desertion; Jessie Strutz against Rudolph Strutz, cruelty; Harry Hill against Lois Hill, desertion; Mary Fahey against Paul J. When Your Cough
Hangs On, Mix
This at Home
Saves Good Money! No Cooking!

If you want the best cough remedy that money can buy, mix it at home. It costs very little, yet it's the most reliable, quick-acting medicine you ever used. The way it takes hold of stubborn coughs, giving immediate relief, is astonishing.

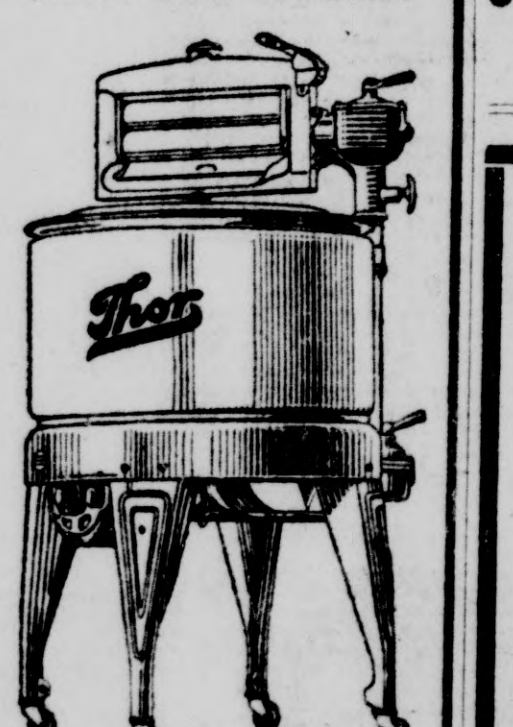

Any druggist can supply you with 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle, and add granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. To make syrup, use 2 cups of sugar and one cup of water, and stir a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed. It's no trouble at all, and gives you four times as much cough medicine for your money—a real family supply. Keeps perfectly and tastes fine.

It is surprising how quickly this loosens the germ-laden phlegm, soothes and heals the inflamed membranes, clears the air passages, and thus ends a severe cough in a hurry.

Pinex is a compound of Norway Pine, in concentrated form, the most reliable healing agent for severe coughs. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

Flood Control And Parks Work Engage C.W.A. Men

Hidden away from the view of the average citizen, a CWA project is under way in the "Snakes Rest" district that will mean a lot to the residents of the district in flood control. The stream that comes down through from the North Hill has had a habit of spreading out over the lowlands in early spring, inundating properties and leaving a residue that was unsightly and unsanitary.

The CWA is changing all that. The water course is being deepened and widened and a foundation of stone put in. By the time the early spring freshets begin tumbling down the water course will be completed and will be large enough to handle the water without any flooding.

The job is not one of the pleasantest, working in mud and the time, but none of the men seem to mind it. It means employment for them and a guarantee to the residents of the "hollow" that they will be free from annoyance when the spring freshets come.

In the North Hill district there are two projects now under way that employ over 100 men. One of them is the conditioning of Gunton Park and the other is the widening of the road between Oak Park and Graceland cemeteries.

Gunton Park is a secluded spot that is not known to most people. Years ago it was a part of "Walton" later a real estate sub-division. Recently Matthew Gunton, who owns the city a large tract of wooded land now known as Gunton Park, and there are spots in the ravine district of the park nearly as beautiful as some of the Slippery Rock valley.

Several small bridges are to be thrown across gullies, and wood is being cleaned out and some of the denser underbrush thinned out.

Will Guarantee Home Loan Bonds

President To Ask Congress To Provide Full Government Guarantee

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—President Roosevelt will ask congress in the near future to enact legislation giving bonds of the Home Owners Loan Corporation a full government guarantee.

The legislation will put the bonds in the same category with farm credit bonds, which were guaranteed at the request of the president some days ago.

At the same time Mr. Roosevelt will ask additional lending powers for the Home Owners Loan Corporation so that loans may be made to home owners for the purpose of modernizing and making extensive repairs.

Additional funds of approximately $250,000,000 will probably be asked for the corporation in connection with the added loan powers.

The president expects this move to have a material effect in picking up the present slack in the building trade.

Former Resident Dies From Injuries

Evan Bevan Falls Into Mahoning River At Warren, O., And Dies From Injuries

Evan Bevan, aged 43, a former resident of Reynolds street, this city, died in the Riverside hospital, Warren, O., Sunday, 40 minutes after he was taken from the Mahoning river, near the West Market street bridge, in downtown Warren.

When found, he was lying in a few inches of water, his head on a stone. It is believed that Bevan attempted to wade across the river and stumbled over a stump and fell, striking his head on a rock.

Bevan roomed at 360 High street, Warren, and was unmarried. He was subject to heart attacks, and it is also thought that he might have been walking along the river bank when he was seized with an attack and fell in, striking his head in the fall.

He is survived by his father, William Bevan; three brothers, James and Daniel of Warren, O., and William of Los Angeles, Calif., and two sisters, Mrs. Mary Schilstra, Warren, and Mrs. Evan Morris, Alliquippa.

Funeral services were held Tuesday and interment was made in Oakwood cemetery.

United States Grants Cubans Recognition

President Roosevelt Authorizes American Ambassador To Notify Cuba

MUCH REJOICING THROUGHOUT ISLAND

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—The United States formally recognized the new Cuban government Tuesday.

President Roosevelt authorized the American Embassy at Havana to notify the new government of President Carlos Mendieta that American recognition had been accorded it.

The state department announced that President Roosevelt had authorized Jefferson Caffery, personal representative at Havana, to instruct H. Freeman Matthews, American Charge D'Affaires, to notify the new government of American recognition.

Ambassadorial credentials will shortly be dispatched to Caffery, who, upon presenting them to the new government, will become American Ambassador to Cuba.

May Restore Order

High hopes were held here that the granting of American recognition to the Cuban government would help in restoration of political tranquility to the island republic.

Recognition will be followed shortly by the offer of a "new deal" both economically and politically on the part of this government toward Cuba.

Legion Commends CWA Administrator

—Bishop Ward Speaks

Bishop John C. Ward of Erie, chaplain of the 108th infantry, 27th division, during the World War, was a special guest Tuesday night when the American Legion, Perry S. Gaston post, met for its semi-monthly meeting.

During his service Bishop Ward was wounded and was twice decorated for carrying wounded soldiers into dressing stations under fire. He was introduced by Legionnaire J. P. Leslie Brindle and spoke briefly. He invited the local Legionnaires to attend the state convention in Erie, which will be held in August of this year. Rev. P. C. Pearson, pastor of Trinity Episcopal church, was also introduced and spoke briefly.

The business meeting of the Legion Tuesday night was a short one. Following the discharge of routine duties Major Guy J. Wadlinger introduced a resolution commending L. B. Round for his services in putting the CWA work on a firm basis here and for his untiring efforts in keeping the project work moving along. The resolution was passed with enthusiasm.

Prophetic Sermon Features Service

Large Congregation Hears Evangelist Beskin Expound
The Bible Truths

Tuesday evening the Primitive Methodist church auditorium was again crowded to hear the Evangelist N. C. Beskin expound the prophetic verses of the Bible.

Rev. C. F. Whetsell, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, led the song service, with Mrs. Ira Blair at the piano. The evangelist's sermon, topic was "Where Are the Dead and how many resurrections are there?"

The afternoon service was well attended. The charts of Rev. Beskin reveal a great deal of prophetic truth and each afternoon at 2:30 the study of these charts will continue. A chorus from the Wesleyan Methodist church sang.

This evening the sermon topic will be based on the second chapter of Daniel and will be a panorama of world affairs. The sermon will be built around a replica of the image which is mentioned in that chapter of the Bible.

PINCHOT'S LETTER IN DAVIS CASE UNOPENED

Senate Sends Letter Back

Senate Returns Letter Written By Governor Pinchot About Senator Davis

FINAL CHAPTER IN DAVIS CASE

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 24—The senate today had closed another chapter in the election of Senator Davis (R) of Pennsylvania.
On motion of Senator Robinson, majority leader, the upper house voted to send back to Gov. Pinchot of Pennsylvania a secret letter he sent to the president of the senate on March 3, 1933.
The letter accompanied another letter which was concerned with the Davis contest.
Pinchot had asked that the former epistle be not made public until after the trial of Davis in federal district court of New York on a charge of violating the lottery law, of which he was acquitted.
However, Robinson moved that the letter be returned to Governor Pinchot for "publication as he sees fit."

Union Defeats Karns City Hi In League Game

Union High Keeps At Top Of Section 18 With 46 To 35 Victory Over Karns City

UNION FACULTY WINS 39 TO 28

Taking their cue from the members of the Union High Faculty basketball team which piled up 39 to 28 victory over New Wilmington High Faculty in the preliminary game, the Union High school basketball team went ahead to take a 46 to 35 victory over a fast Karns City High five last night at the Union High court. This victory in Section 18 keeps the Boyd men right up at the top of the league race.

The Union High team held the lead the entire time. The end of the first period it was 16 to 4 Union, and at the end of the first half the score was 22 to 12. The end of the third period found the Unionites enjoying a lead 30 to 24. Coach Boyd used his second and third team most of the third period.

Union Comes Through In the fourth and final chapter Coach Boyd sent his first string team back to the court and led by "Red" Boron, who had a grand total of 21 points in the evening, soon had a commanding lead on the visitors. Union outscored the Karns City High team 16 to 11 in the final period.

Tomasello, Barrett and McGarvey were the big shots in the lineup of the invaders. Monica and White played a fine defensive game for the Unionites and their passing was one of the highlights of the game. Boron, Morrison and Schas did the scoring.

Union Faculty Wins In the preliminary game the Union High Faculty with Assistant Coach Rudolph and Leonard starring, defeated the New Wilmington High Faculty 39 to 28. Rudolph had 12 points through the medium of six field goals and seven foul shots. Leonard had 17 points through six field goals and seven foul shots. For the New Wilmington team the playing of Siljander, former Westminster star, Whitman and Hamilton featured. The game was well played and proved quite interesting to the spectators. The boys of yesteryears can still strut their stuff.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Proof of the pudding is in the eating, likewise the class of the Church Basketball League games at the Y. Two of which were captured by one point margins last night. There ought to be a jammed auditorium Thursday night when Tifereth Israel and Epworth M. E. play for the second round championship of the A loop. Wesley M. E. could not stop H. Wyman. He chalked up five field goals for Epworth. F. Rech played a spectacular game for Wesley. He cased four double markers but Epworth managed to stave off Wesley before the score could be deadlocked in the final few minutes. First Christian started fast and chalked up tallies in the first half but were outplayed in the second half, 14 to 11. Unlike Epworth, they could not prevent St. Johns deadlocking the score but in the extra period first Christians came through to win.

Tonight is Grapplers' night at the Y and it looks as though the auditorium, which is a mecca every night for fans of some branch of sport, will flock to the matches.

The boys are picking Barney Ross, lightweight champion, to beat the challenger, Billy Petrolle of Fargo, N. D., at New York tonight. The betting is 8 to 5. And by the way, Ross, who had a sensational ascent, is managed by Art Winch and Sam Plan of Chicago. Plan came here often with the redskin, Ernie Peters.

Efforts are under way at Davenport, Ia., for the reorganization of the Three I league which folded up in 1932.

The New York Yankees acquired a new right hand hurler yesterday. He is Leroy Parmelee.

Rabbit Maranville will play his twenty-third season with the Braves. He was sent a contract and told to write his own figures. He and the contract has been approved by President Emil Fuchs, who said: "I would probably have given him $1,500."

Slippery Rock Teachers rallied in the second half at Slippery Rock last night and beat Youngstown college, 34 to 28. Octman, forward, caged 10 points and center, Truman, shot seven field goals.

Coach Bach Not To Change Grid Policy Of Dukes

New Duquesne Coach Will Use Practically Same Method As Employed By Elmer Layden

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Jan. 24.—"I don't think any radical changes are necessary."

With that sentence, Joseph A. Bach, new head coach of Duquesne University, laid at rest today reports that he might make some changes in the set-up established by Elmer F. Layden, his predecessor, who leaves Duquesne Saturday to become head coach at his alma mater, Notre Dame.

Bach, who gained fame as one of the seven mules of the 1924 team under Knute Rockne, will continue as Layden's successor by showing his squad the fine art of football as he learned it.

"We'll teach it to any man who comes out for the team," Bach said, "and we ought to have a lot of candidates out. We have eleven varsity spots to fill through graduation and a tough schedule ahead of us. That's why we'll have to have a strong team this season."

Speaking in his slow, droll voice which has made him a fine after-dinner speaker, Bach observed: "I'll know more about the team after the spring practice sessions in April. But we do need eleven good men."

He added after a pause: "Don't worry. We'll find them." Appointments are now under consideration. It was revealed today, for the posts of director of athletics and line coach at Duquesne. It is expected that the appointments will be made known within the next few days.

Union-Bessemer To Play Friday

The biggest game of the year in the Lawrence County High School league will be played at the Union High floor Friday night of this week when Coach Dave Boyd sends his Union High basketball team after the county title in a game with the strong Bessemer High team. The game will no doubt draw the biggest crowd of the year on the Union floor.

Benedict-Laycock Sign With Rovers

Step Is Made To Bolster Up Tin City Rovers For Second Half Battle

The first step by the management of the Tin City Rovers basketball team to try and capture the championship of the second half of the Penn-Ohio floor league, was the signing up today of two well known Tri-State College stars George "Ganz" Benedict, former Duquesne star and "Bud" Laycock, former Grove City College ace.

An effort is being made to sign up Dr. Len Friedman, former Geneva star for the Tin City Rovers. Both Benedict and Laycock will be in the lineup of the Tin City Rover team Friday night at the Senior High court when the Frasersmen play the fast Sharon entry in the league.

Titans Defeat Edinboro Five By Score 41-31

Bennett And Sweeney Star In Game Against Teachers At Westminster Court

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Jan. 24.—Westminster College basketball team got back some revenge last night at the Westminster floor by taking the measure of a scrappy Edinboro Teachers College five 41 to 31. The game was perhaps the roughest played this year at the college floor and resulted in five players being chased from the game via the personal foul rule.

The score at the half favored the Westminster team 21 to 11. In the last half the Teachers put on a better show and made things interesting. "Wes" Bennett the tall Titan center was again the high scorer of the evening, with four field goals and six fouls for 14 points, while Ray Sweeney trailed Bennett by four points with 10. Leyschok and Douglass each kicked in with six points.

For the Edinboro team the playing of Holland, Beck, Cohen, and Lessor was the best.

The series of meetings started Tuesday and will be concluded on February 2.

FIRE LEVELS LAST LOG SCHOOLHOUSE

HARRISBURG, Jan. 24.—What is believed to have been the last remaining log schoolhouse in Pennsylvania recently was burned to the ground according to reports to the Department of Public Instruction. It was known as the Swartz school, in Monroe township, Juniata county, a few miles north of Thompsonstown.

The old log school is estimated to have been built about seventy-five years ago and many inhabitants of the community did not know that it was built of logs until after the fire. Some years ago the structure had been covered with weather boarding. Rebuilding of the one-room school is now under way as a CWA project.

Wrestlers Ready For Bouts At 'Y'

Champs And Runners-up In Lineup Of Erie Boys Team

LOCAL GRAPPLERS IN GOOD CONDITION

Everything is in readiness for the wrestling meet tonight at the Y and when the fans and families trek into the auditorium and the grapplers go on the mat they're bound to have an evening's evening of thrills.

The aggregation which arrived here from Erie today is composed of champs and runners-up and if the Y grapplers win tonight they will certainly have proved one of the strongest combinations hereabouts.

About one week ago Menry MacNicholas Catch-as-Catch-can artists stacked up against W. J. upset the dope and when the bouts were ended New Castle Y had won the meet. Pre-match talk today favors the Boys club of Erie but a wrestling match is like a game of cards. A card game isn't over until the last card is dealt and a mat bout isn't ended until one's shoulders are pinned tight.

The local boys have trained faithfully for the meet with Erie and if they go into defeat it will not be for lack of condition or heart. All the boys are in shape and each of 'em is prepared for a lot of grueling work.

The first bout will start at 8:30 p. m. The referee for all of the bouts will be Bob Meermans, who in his early day, and for that matter, right now is no slouch at wrestling.

Carnera Turns Down Offer To Fight Sharkey

Wants To Meet Maxie Baer And Settle Argument As To Championship Ability

(International News Service) BALTIMORE, Jan. 24.—"There's only one match the public wants now and that's a Baer-Carnera fracas."

In these words, Anell Hoffman, Max's manager, waved aside a telegraphic challenge issued by Jack Buckley, manager of Jack Sharkey, for a bout between the garious goliath and the handsome (Sic) Californian who is doing four-a-day in Vaudeville.

"The people want a championship battle between Baer and the titleholder," said Hoffman. "There is no other out possible that could be called a real championship affair now."

Baer's manager made it plain he is not going to let Madison Square Garden force him into a match at Garden terms, simply by reference to plans "to build up" Kingfish Levinsky as a logical contender.

"Baer has beaten Levinsky twice and each time decisively," Hoffman added.

"We are going to fight Carnera, and we are going to refuse to take the time to let Madison Square Garden dictate to us as well as take a mortgage on Max's future, too."

"We are not going to waste our time and kid the public in efforts to pick up some loose change by fighting men like Sharkey, Hamas, Schmeling and Levinsky first."

Enthusiastic Reception For
New Government Financing
Plans By Stock Market

RAILROAD AND STEEL FEATURE

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—The stock market gave the announcement of the new government financing an enthusiastic reception today as prices were whirled up from fractions to points in fast trading.

The new high speed ticker was thrown 4 minutes behind the market as a wave of buying came into the list bringing a general upturn.

Railroad and steel shares were the outstanding favorites in the forenoon dealings. New York Central, Lackawanna, Atchafalaya, Southern Railway and several of the low-priced carrier shares were taken in large volume and gained more than a point.

United States Steel went to a new high for the move and the best price since last July. Other steel shares notably Youngstown, Bethlehem and Republic were outstanding favorites for the day.

United States government bonds were little affected by the new financing program holding quiet and steady. The dollar also ignored the billion dollar issue announcement.

The commodity markets tended toward irregularity as wheat, corn and the other grains opened mixed with quotations holding within a small fraction of yesterday's close.

Utility stocks including Consolidated Gas, Public Service of N. J., Stone & Webster were taken in volume at advancing prices. While gold mining shares were quiet, liquor and specialty shares were higher. Merchandising shares also continued their advance.

The Governor Says

What Is Going On
In Harrisburg—
And Why

By GIFFORD PINCHOT
Governor of Pennsylvania

Old Age Assistance in Pennsylvania is now a fact instead of a dream. It is hard to believe, but it is true. When I signed the bill last week I had to pinch myself to make sure I wasn't dreaming.

Of course this Old Age Assistance Bill is by no means everything that socially-minded, liberal people wanted.

And there has been some criticism of this Old Age Assistance Bill on the ground that it is not a full-fledged old age pension system. But I maintain that half or three-quarters of the loaf now is much better than the whole loaf in the future, with a very strong possibility that there might not be any loaf at all.

That statement needs a little explanation.

At the regular session of the Legislature just a year ago, the Senate refused to pass the resolution which would have permitted the people of Pennsylvania to vote on a Constitutional Amendment to permit payment of old age pensions.

When the Senate refused to pass that resolution it killed the hope of getting a full-fledged old age pension system in Pennsylvania for five years, for any constitutional amendment must be approved by two sessions of the Legislature and then put to a vote of the people.

Thus when the Senate killed the resolution a year ago most of us thought all hope of getting any satisfactory help for Pennsylvania's aged was dead. But we evolved this plan and it is going to work. Instead of waiting for years we are going to start making grants to the aged next December. And, with the principle adopted, we can go ahead toward more ambitious plans for caring for our aged as time goes on.

I would like to explain as briefly as I can just what this new bill does. In the first place, it should be distinctly understood that there will be no payments before next December. I regret that the General Assembly postponed the inauguration of the system until that time but there is nothing I can do about it. To be eligible to receive payments a person must be over 70 years old, must have been a resident of Pennsylvania for more than fifteen years, and a citizen of the United States for the same period.

No payments will be made to any individual who has relatives who could be responsible for his or her support. The maximum grant is $30 a month for the first member of a family and $15 a month for any additional eligible members.

The money will come from profits of the State liquor stores and I have approved an appropriation of $4,000,000 for the six months period beginning December 1, 1934.

Judging by the experience of New York state, which has had a somewhat similar law since 1930, it is estimated that there will be approximately 38,000 applicants for payments.

The Mothers' Assistance Boards of Trustees, under the supervision of the Department of Welfare, will administer the law. Thus the state is taking advantage of existing machinery for administration of old age assistance.

The Mothers' Assistance Fund has been in operation since 1913. Heretofore its duty has been to keep in their own homes, and with their own mothers, children whose fathers die or are indefinitely confined to institutions for the insane.

The Mothers' Assistance Fund is now providing for 23,000 children throughout the state. The boards who administer this fund are volunteers appointed by the Governor.

Any opposition that is heard to old age pensions or old age assistance is usually based on the utterly wrong premise that it adds to the cost of government and, consequently, to taxes.

The truth is that the old-fashioned system of looking after the aged in the almshouse costs local governments huge sums of money. The new method of aiding the aged poor is far more economical than any other way of caring for them. Many old people who have no children, given regular monthly allowances, can manage comfortably at less expense than the cost through almshouses or institutional homes.

Besides, our aged can retain their self respect. They need live no longer in the fear of going "over the hill to the poorhouse" in their old age.

Pennsylvania became the 26th state to provide for its aged poor when I signed the Blumberg Bill last Thursday.

The first old age pension law in the United States was adopted in Alaska in 1915. Montana and Nevada passed such legislation in 1923; Kentucky followed in 1926; Maryland in 1927; and Massachusetts and New York in 1930. In the last three years fourteen states followed.

I am proud that Pennsylvania has joined the procession.

'Unemployment' Is Topic At Luncheon

Lions Club Discussion Is Part Of Winter Series; Plan
'Poverty Party'

Problems arising from present-day unemployment were seriously considered by members of the Lions club when they devoted their regular Tuesday luncheon period to a discussion of "Philanthropy and Alms-giving—What's the Best Thing to Do for the Unemployed?"

The open discussion, led by Lion B. K. Thacker, principal of the George Washington junior high school, was the second in a series of Socratic league studies which the club will hold this winter. The topics and discussion material were sent out by Lions International.

"A philanthropist," began the prepared explanation of that topic, "is a type of man created by the industrial revolution. He is one who gives to others his time or money or both." Chairman Thacker recited the growth of philanthropy, saying that its coming "breathed a new meaning into the word charity." The entire club engaged in the discussion.

At the close of the prepared discussion, cases of economic distress as it concerned certain individuals were described and briefly analyzed. Lion D. E. Matheson gave a three-minute talk on his experiences as a United States Marine in Haiti from 1917 to 1919 just before the discussion began.

The club plans to hold a "Poverty Night" program on the night of Thursday, February 1 at the Liberty grange hall, and Dr. J. L. Reed is chairman of arrangements. Ladies of the Lions will be guests.

On Court House Hill

Another CWA project, embracing a survey of all tax liens filed against farms in Lawrence county, is to be undertaken under the direction of State College.

Word was received at the prothonotary's office yesterday that the work will be started as soon as the appointment of a suitable person is made. It is understood that a local young woman will be named. Tax liens against farms are now higher than ever known in the history of the county. This has been due to the low prices of farm products during the past few years, and the increased taxes on farms. Only the more prosperous farmers have been able to meet their tax obligations when due. In order to get the data necessary the judgment indexes in the prothonotary's office will all have to be checked. Work of handling tax liens has added greatly to the activities of the prothonotary's office during the past few years. Each lien must be indexed in the judgment index, then in the locality index and finally it must be copied into the tax lien docket, where a description of the property is given.

Will of the late S. Jan Zrebiec of this city has been probated at the register and recorder's office. Decedent's wife, Veronica Zrebiec is named as executrix. Mr. Zrebiec left his household goods to his wife, also the money due on three notes held by him. Four shares of steel stock are left to Mrs. Zrebiec, and the money represented by joint accounts at the Lawrence Savings and Trust Company and the Peoples' Bank.

H. B. Strausbaugh of 405 Spruce street, who had the contract for painting the South Mill street bridge has completed his work. It has been inspected by Engineer Glenn Troop, connected with the T. A. Gilkey office and has been pronounced satisfactory in every way. The bridge was given two complete coats of paint, and a spot coat. The spot coat is applied first on places which had become rusty, and which had to be cleaned. Mr. Strausbaugh has secured a contract from the Grassella Chemical Company to paint the company's plant here.

In the administration of the Home Owners Loan Corporation it appears that first consideration is to be given applicants for loans who are in distress. There has been some question as to the actual meaning of this provision, but an opinion from W. F. Thompson, assistant attorney for the corporation at Washington seems to settle the question. "It is our opinion," that a party is deemed in distress within the intent and purposes of the law," says Attorney Thompson, "and thereby eligible for relief under all the provisions of our act, when he is unable to pay the encumbrances on his home, or any payments due thereon, and has been unable to obtain relief from any other source, and consequently has been threatened with the institution of legal proceedings, which would cause the loss of, or ejectment from his home. It is, therefore, not necessary that your property be listed by sheriff sale bill for you to qualify as a distressed home owner, eligible for relief under the provisions of the act."

Distribution of a sizeable estate is made by the will of the late Edward Kay of the Fourth ward, which has been admitted to probate at the register and recorder's office. Among the principal bequests are the following: Fred H. Kay, nephew, $4000, friend and neighbor, Thomas M.

Thousands of people afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

Olive Tablets brings no gripping pain or any disagreeable effects. Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after 20 years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Edmonds, of Pasadena, Cal., and nieces, Jean L. Edmonds of New York and Mrs. Nellie Moser of Elyria, O. Fred H. Kay and Attorney Roy W. Hazen are named as executors.

The new court house, when completed, will furnish some new jobs, that of running elevators. As the building is to be eight stories high and will house the jail and sheriff's office, it will probably be necessary to have several elevators, and probably day and night service.

ERROR MAY COST DRIVING PRIVILEGE

HARRISBURG, Jan. 24.—Care in filling out applications for 1934 operators' licenses was advanced today by the Bureau of Motor Vehicles which emphasized that incorrect data may result in a two-year suspension of operating privileges. The bureau urged every operator to fill out his blank personally and give particular attention to questions regarding accident and accident-damage records required by the financial responsibility act. A penalty of two years' suspension of operating privileges is provided for failure to furnish correct information.

Continuance Of CWA To Depend On Conditions

May Be Extended Beyond Tentative Date Of May 1, Is Statement

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Continuance or abandonment of the CWA, which now has approximately 4,000,000 workers on its payroll, will depend upon conditions prevailing in the late spring, or up to May 1, which is the tentative date set for demobilization of this enormous relief agency.

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, said today after a conference with Mr. Roosevelt that he had been assured the CWA would not be completely demobilized if conditions do not warrant.

Mr. Roosevelt feels, Green reported, that industry and private employment may be in shape by May 1 to absorb about 1,000,000 workers, and that the Public Works projects will be sufficiently advanced at that time to take on from 1,000,000 to 2,000,000 others.
